Green Drinks Brooklyn

WOMEN AND CLIMATE Green Drinks Brooklyn | August 2022

Green Drinks Brooklyn takes place on the third Wednesday of every month and in August, it was a packed house filled with our community and new and old friends and it was wonderful to see all the networking take place! All speakers were Women and Climate members and we got so much great feedback from the audience, applauding their talks and content. Well done speakers!

NYC Climate Week

Women & Climate

NYC Climate Week

A happy hour celebrating women leading the charge on climate optimism and climate action.

Tuesday, September 20th
5:30pm - 8:30pm EST
Humanscale Offices
1114 6th Ave, New York, NY 10036

Sold out!

Our Celebration at NYC Climate Week is officially sold out! We'd still like to have our members engage if there's interest in New York and other cities. The speaker line up and programming is very exciting. Let us know if there's interest in live streaming the event!

Social Boost Slack Channel

We have a new Slack channel called `#social-boost`. Goal is two fold:

- As a founder, we often don't have the marketing budget and colleagues to help us boost and amplify content
- As a female, sometimes we some extra umph to break through and get attention

To both ends, the social boost channel is a place where you can ask our community to boost something. It's a give and take channel - feel free to post when you need and also give when others need :)

If you might need a boost or want to support your fellow members, join today (or now)!

City Expansion

The demand for a community like Women and Climate is strong! We're preparing a city expansion game plan and would love to meet local hosts that are interested in getting involved. If that is you or you just want to nominate your city, let us know!
